New Bible study for your use

Looking for a Bible study for your next gathering? "We, Not Me" is now available for you to use. "While God created us as unique individuals, He also made us to be part of a larger community. Let's explore God's provision for preserving our individuality within being part of God's kingdom," says Roberta Nixon, VP Christian Growth. "See what His Word says as we celebrate LWMLC Sunday."

The Christian Growth committee is looking for women who have a knack for telling a story through skit and song. If you have such a gift please contact Roberta at vpchristiangrowth@lutheranwomen.ca.

In our most recent Update we urged societies to promote Tapestry on LWMLC Sunday but we neglected to remind you about the poster and bulletin insert sent out with the magazine's renewal notice. We apologize for the oversight.

If you don't have these at hand, you may download them from the LWMLC website: www.lutheranwomen.ca/publications-and-forms/tapestry. Scroll down the page to PROMOTE and click on the appropriate link.

A preview of the next Tapestry

"How do the things we do impact our faith? We know and believe that our faith is given and strengthened by the Holy Spirit only through Word and Sacrament. Yet our faith and our trust in our God is blessed as we reach out in love for we see God at work in our lives and in the lives of those we touch."

Tapestry, Fall 2016

Thus Judy Grande begins in her article, "The blessings go on and on and on," in the winter issue of Tapestry currently being completed. Judy shares the thoughts of those involved in her congregation's annual give-away of clothing and other household items. While stories of such events often focus on the need of the recipients, through the sharing of the reactions of volunteers we catch a glimpse of such action on our own faith.

Judy and other writers of stories and Bible studies help reveal the warmth of God's love, revealed through each of us as we interact with an often cold world.

If you don't subscribe to Tapestry, now might be the time. Ask your society to add you to their order or simply call our data manager, Laura Goerz at 780-299-6123 with your order information and a credit card number.
