Dear Sisters in Christ,

This communication includes a summary of the proposed structure compared to our current structure and the descriptions for positions under the proposed structure. This information is the detail behind the proposed new bylaws that will be presented for vote at our 2018 convention.

These 29 pages represent the work of the initial task force formed in 2012, and the planning committee that has been in place since 2015. Input for the proposal has come from a member survey in 2013, discussions at our national convention in 2015 and at district conventions in 2016. Many have sent comments and suggestion to the planning committee by email. Much discussion has taken place in societies and zones. Several took the opportunity to discuss their thoughts with committee members one on one. Many, many prayers have been said, asking God to guide our planning in a way that is pleasing to Him and the fruitful continuation of His work through LWMLC.

We ask you now to consider the proposal prayerfully. We encourage you to discuss the positive implications this new structure could have and to voice any concerns openly but with a mind to finding the best way forward for LWMLC.

In the next few weeks this proposal will be submitted to our legal council. He will draft bylaws that will be published in the 2018 Convention business bulletin. At convention the bylaws will be presented to the voting delegates for decision.

If you have any questions or comments we encourage you to address them to any member of the restructuring committee:
