

Called to Serve

- neighbour • congregation • community • world

Women of Lutheran Church-Canada who are...

- In God's Word
- In service to others
- In support of the Church's mission

...hold these things in common with women of Lutheran Women's Missionary League-Canada

LWMLC societies ARE

- In tune with the needs of their congregation and community
- Strongly supporting mission projects through grants from the collection of "mites"
- Meeting less regularly but more often for specific service opportunities
- Becoming more informally organized
- Often taking new forms

What LWMLC societies DO

- Come together to grow and mature in faith
- Support one another through the ups and downs of life
- Plan and carry out service activities for the benefit of their neighbour
- Choose activities that support the mission and ministry of their congregation
- Gather with like-minded women from other congregations because together we accomplish more

Why LWMLC?

- I go to meetings and LWMLC events because of the love of Christ shown in my sisters of Christ. The care and encouragement they show to me and others strengthen me and help me to grow in God's Word. I never knew how much fun LWMLC could be, or how important it was to develop those connections with my sisters in Christ until I started attending. It was exactly what I needed!

~ Samantha Neeb, Ontario

I'm a rather quiet woman who likes to work behind the scenes and not necessarily be out front speaking. I've found that LWMLC's Mission Service is my passion. I've organized our quilting bees and I'm always on the lookout for sales on flannelette and baby items for CLWR kits.
